PICKING UP ODDS AND ENDS

The Main Preparation For the Carnival Complete.

The odds and ends of the carnival work are being rapidly gathered together by the executive committee and the director general R. Allen Lewis, and metaphorically speaking, when the curtain rises on Monday, the third annual Phoenix Indian and cowboy carnival will be inaugurated in all its glory and splendor and with completeness of detail. There will be many new features this year, not the least of which will be the queen's coronation ceremonies. These will be given as before stated, in front of the grand stand on a magnificent stage which is now being erected at the corner of Second avenue and Washington street. All of the ceremonies for the entire week, free vaudeville shows, children's cake walks and fancy dances, presentations of prizes, reviews of pageants, processions, etc., will be on this throne before the queen and her court and the officers of the carnival.

A very large source of revenue to the carnival will be derived from the sale of season tickets for the grand stand. A very original and satisfactory plan has been adopted by the committee of having coupon books with twelve tickets therein which can be used by anyone, are transferable, good the entire week to pass in and out of the grand stand as people desire. A numbered seat is held for the owner of the book through the entire carnival. Police and attendance officers will take charge of the reserved seat sections. The officers of the carnival and their ladies will have seats in these sections, and they will be most desirably located.

The grand stand which will be commenced today will seat 1,200 persons comfortably.

It will be a model grand stand in every respect and beautifully trimmed and decorated. These books are sold for $2.00 which covers the entire week. Single admission seats, not reserved will be 25 cents for each performance. As there will not be less than twelve or perhaps fifteen including parades, pageants, etc., this is a very great reduction on coupon books, and should meet with a very ready sale at once.

The Los Angeles Times will have a booth at the carnival and Mr. W. H. Chapin, manager of the art department will be present to take photographs and sketches of the different scenes of the carnival. Several of the other papers will have headquarters here during the carnival.

There is considerable inquiry in regard to excursion rates. Chairman M. O. Bicknell of the transportation committee announces the following:

There will be one fare for the round trip from El Paso, Tex., and from all points on the Southern Pacific from New Mexico and Arizona. Tickets to be on sale each day of the carnival with a final limit of December 17th. There will be one fare on the Southern Pacific from all points in Southern California and the intermediate points between Los Angeles and Phoenix, with the dates of sale 7th, 8th, 9th of December. The final limit to be December 18th.

There will be a $3.00 fare for the round trip from Tucson without guarantee of any special number, which will leave there on Tuesday.

For the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railway company, General Agent Gillett has reported to the carnival as follows:

Prescott day will be December 14th, and a $5 rate will be made for the round trip from Prescott to Phoenix and return, with final limit December 17th. There will however be a special train out from Phoenix on Sunday, December 16th, at 1 p. m., should any desire to leave then. This rate of $5 for that day will apply to stations intermediate between Prescott and Phoenix, and for the accommodation of the passengers to save them from being the night on the road according to the way the trains run now, there will be run a special train leaving Prescott at 1 p. m., December 14th, reaching Phoenix at 7 o'clock. Returning, this same train will leave Phoenix at 1 p. m. and reach Prescott at 7 p. m. This gives the people a daylight ride and avoids the necessity of paying a Pullman fare or remaining in the coaches during the night. The Santa Fe has also made a rate of $4 for the round trip fare from all Colorado points.

SALES OF SEASON TICKETS.

The sale of season books for the grand stand opened yesterday. Seats on the grand stand were taken by the following:

Acting Governor C. H. Akers, Judge and Mrs. Webster Street, Mrs. N. O. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams, General and Mrs. R. Allen Lewis, General and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heap, Mr. and Mrs. D. Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dorris, Mr. B. H. Collins, Mr. Joseph

Hoff, Mr. Percy Seville, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dorris, Colonel and Mrs. M. H. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spear, Mr. A. S. Mills, Mr. Frank E. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Chapin, Mr. Lloyd Dameron, Dr. and Mrs. Vickers.

These were taken up to 3 o'clock. There are but four days more in which to purchase these tickets, and they should be secured at once in order to obtain the most desirable seats.

THE SIGNAL OF LIBERTY.

At the Dorris theater Wednesday evening the Jossey company presented "The Signal of Liberty" to a large and demonstrative audience. The play was a farcical drama, telling a stirring story of the scenes in Havana previous to and including the destruction of the Maine, and was exciting enough at times to arouse the audience to a point of extreme enthusiasm. The Jossey company is, indeed, the best low-priced aggregation that has been seen on a local stage, and is receiving well-deserved patronage. This evening they will present "Under Two Flags," and at the Saturday matinee, "Camille" will be the bill. "Sapho" will be given Saturday evening.
